DR. SHIDLER IS GUEST SPEAKER

Dr. George P. Shidler, Torrance physician and one of the leading members of the Rotary Club, who has gained a wide and enviable reputation as a speaker through his talks before Rotary clubs in many cities of California and other states during the past two years, addressed the National Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening on the topic, "Youth and the New Deal."

Dr. Shidler illustrated his remarks with a series of charts, showing the trend of civilization from the primitive, barbarous states to its apogee, and called attention to the fast borne out by history that there is a tendency of nations to slip from their high estates either to the lower levels or perhaps to total extinction as such. The cause for the descent lay in the over-stimulation of individuals, who gave themselves up to the mad pursuit of pleasures until the nerves and brain were exhausted, and the slip into apathy and degeneracy began with disastrous consequences to the race. The youth problem begins when life has reached a stage of complexity that demands constant change, simple life and amusements are scorned, and moderation is practically unknown. Unless by some radical means a change is effected in the dizzy whirl and there is a return by force or choice to saner habits the individual is headed for moral and physical bankruptcy.

Dr. Shidler's remarks, while they presented food for thought, were plentifully sprinkled with wit and humor which brought out the highlights of his speech with telling effect.

Miss Esther Maxwell, chairman of the health committee, introduced the speaker and at the close of his address expressed the appreciation of the members for his visit to the club.

Miss Edna May, member of the Los Angeles Junior Business and Professional Women, was a guest. The names of Mrs. Gladys Pangborn, Narbonne high school secretary, and Mrs. Lulu Doane, of the Lomita elementary school, were presented as candidates for membership.
